Different occupations or different employers have varying ways of determining overtime. Only overtime pay required by the FLSA is eligible for this deduction — additional overtime mandated by state law, employment contract, employer policy, etc., is not eligible. Only the FLSA-mandated half-time premium over regular pay qualifies for the overtime deduction. See IRS Fact Sheet 2026-01 for FAQ.

– For Tax-Aide use –

Caution! This simplified calculation may be used only if the taxpayer can identify the total overtime pay attributable solely to hours worked over 40 in a workweek (or other FLSA-mandated overtime threshold, as applicable) and the overtime premium is a constant rate. It may not be used if any overtime was paid without regard to whether their hours exceeded the 40-hour weekly threshold (e.g., solely for working weekends, holidays, off-hours, hours worked in excess of 8 hours in a day, etc.), as only FLSA-mandated overtime qualifies.

Simplified qualified overtime pay calculator for the deduction:

Total overtime pay (not just the OT premium)	(a)	$
Enter the rate of overtime pay multiplied by 2 e.g. for time and a half (1.5x) enter 3; for double time (2x) enter 4	(b)
Divide (a) by (b)	(c)	$

Enter amount from line (c) on Sch 1-A Additional Deductions > No Tax on Overtime screen as W-2 or 1099, as applicable.

 This worksheet is not needed if your employer gave you the amount of qualified FLSA overtime premium for the overtime deduction, e.g. W-2 box 12 with code TT, or employer statement or W-2 box 14 with qualified overtime compensation amount.

Otherwise, this worksheet is intended for straightforward situations where the taxpayer is able to provide the necessary information. If the taxpayer is not able to provide the information, the return can be filed without the deduction (and amended later when accurate information is provided) or the taxpayer can choose to not use Tax-Aide to file their return.
